We observe that the Democratic papers have very fluide on ay about the late elections. And, sure enough, what can be also as the state of the state all the time to lose sight of the main question. No clap-trap in the world.

From the Pittoburgh Commercial of yesterday, it has not been made, the every state where you were in the mace and the specific who would do a job on their own who would do a job on their own premises, or on those of the person giving the account of its immating them now?" "Why did wo not hear these "vote in every State where you were in the mace and and the world in the mace and and the world in the mace and the world in the mace and the white?"

"You not loan your money to the Government like these bondholders who you say did it simply for their selfish "gain?" "How came it that your "capidity was so marvelously subdued "all the while?"

A few such simple questions as these, suggested by the popular instincts, killed every effort of the Democracy, with the certainty and precision of a shot to the heart. They could not stand before the popular indignation which was kindled by the very suggestions arising in the minds of those who lisanity and precision of a shot to the heart. They could not stand before the popular indignation which was kindled by the very suggestions arising in the minds of those who lisantened to their arguments. And neither can they stand in the future unless, the country commit ter- the fort its manning which has always been their form and and in the future unless, the country commit ter- the form of the country co

The name of Democracy is exceedingly odious to the American people, tainted all over and all through, as it is, with slavery and rebellion. Harper's Weekity well said a few weeks ago that:

"The national prestige of the Democratic name is gone. The name of Democracy is indissolubly associated with treason, rebellion, and civil war. Under Democratic accuracy the conspiracy was conceived and matured. Under a Democratic accuracy the conspiracy was conceived and matured. Under a Democratic converted and matured. Palmer in command. The Kentuckians asy that there is just as much military rule as before. The grandjury of Mason county has presented Gen. Palmer for overawing the elections by force and for illegally freeing negroes. Gen. Palmer has issued another long letter to Gov. Bramlette in defence of his conduct, He acknowledges that he considers alavery dead in Kentucky and has acted upon that idea in giving passes to negroes togo where they pleased, it and out of the State. It is believed that the cabinet has had under consideration lately the question of the trial of Jeff Davis. The report is that Chief Justice Chase does no t wish to preside at the trial, and that several members of the cabinet are for a trial by military court, while the President is determined that if he is tried at all it that the might accept a presidential nomination at their hands.
